Entitled “West Country Households, 1500–1700,” the event brought together almost 200 people, including specialists in vernacular architecture, interior decoration, textiles, furniture history, the analysis of inventories, household accounts, food history, and metal, glass and ceramic artefacts. Alongside independent researchers, academics from several disciplines and members of archaeological units were staff from architects’ practices, museums, conservation studios and the antiquities trade. Population of 13 small West European countries assumed to move parallel to the total for the 12 countries above. 230. Appendix B. Portugal 1500–1700 and Spain 1500 from de Vries (1984), p. 36. Korea had a system of household population registers (hojok) for purposes of taxation and manpower mobilisation from 1392 to 1910, from which bureaucratic records survive. These registers had very scanty coverage of the child population, there was substantial regional variance, with much better coverage in Seoul, the capital. For 1500–1700 there are several indicators which suggest that the United Kingdom was more dynamic than most other European countries. Population rose by 0.39 per cent a year compared with 0.15 per cent in the rest of Western Europe. West Country Households, 1500–1700 Format: Hardback. They include the extraordinary survival of wall-hangings in a South Devon farm, the discovery of painted rooms in an Elizabethan town house, and a study of a table-setting mirrored on its ceiling. Read full description. See details and exclusions - West Country Households, 1500–1700 - 9781843839941. See all 9 brand new listings. Qty item 1 West Country Households, 1500-1700, Hardcover by Allan, John (EDT); Alcock, N -West Country Households, 1500-1700, Hardcover by Allan, John (EDT); Alcock, N £33.14. Free postage. SPONSORED. West Country Households, 1500–1700. Edited by John Allan, Nat Alcock, David Dawson. Online ISBN: 9781782044574. Book description. During the last forty years, South-West England has been the focus of some of the most significant work on the early modern house and household in Britain. Its remarkable wealth of vernacular buildings has been the object of much attention, while the area has also seen productive excavations of early modern household goods, shedding new light on domestic history. This collection of papers, written by many of the leading specialists in these fields, presents a number of essays summarizing the overall understanding of particular themes and places, alongside case studies which p